STAT

MEMORANDUM FOR: [REDACTED]
Administrative Officer, DCI

SUBJECT : Time Spent by National Intelligence Staff on Program Evaluation

1. The Staff spent the following man-hours on program evaluation in the last calendar year:

GS-18	1,733
GS-15	1,642
GS-09	980

2. These man-hours were spent primarily on the following program evaluation exercises:

a. FOCUS Studies: The NIOs convene interagency working groups which examine the reporting from a specific mission abroad, identify the reporting's strengths and weaknesses, and make recommendations as to how the reporting might be improved.

b. KIQs and KIQ Strategy Reports. Before any of these management guidance documents can be written, an evaluation of the current state of intelligence collection and analysis is required.

c. Annual Work Programs. Particularly in the military estimative field, an evaluation is made upon the completion of major estimates to determine where the major gaps in our information and analysis exist and which analytical work programs should be launched so that the next estimate can provide better answers to the questions on policymakers' minds.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Administration

Deputy Director for Science & Technology

THROUGH : Comptroller OK 14 APR 1977

SUBJECT : Resources for Program Evaluation in Fiscal Year 1977
-- OMB Bulletin 77-8

1. A report showing and commenting on the CIA resources devoted to Program Evaluation is due in the Office of Management and Budget on 25 April. It is in our interest that the CIA submission show as thoroughly and carefully as possible Agency efforts to systematically analyze its programs to ascertain the extent that they "have achieved or are achieving their objectives, or are producing other significant effects...."

2. A copy of the actual OMB Bulletin is attached; it requires some interpretation. Basically, the data desired is that showing the extent that CIA attempts to determine "what has actually occurred as the result of past program actions," plus our efforts to develop evaluation methodologies and ensure that these are incorporated into existing and future programs. The efforts identified should be intended to assist management.

3. For the purposes of this OMB tasking, program evaluation does not include:

- evaluation activities which are an intrinsic part of program operations or management;
- analyses of the relative cost/benefit of alternative approaches to programs that do not yet exist;
- the development and operation of management information systems;
- the collection of routine data or the preparation of general statistics or basic research.

CONFIDENTIAL

Approved For Release 2004/05/13 : CIA-RDP91M00696R000200060018-0

5. The attachment to the OMB Bulletin shows the prescribed format for your input. Please give us a name of a contact person; we will not pass that name to OMB. We propose to provide OMB with data for each of the four Directorates and for the Office of the Director. One staff-year should be counted for each full-time person who devotes more than fifty percent of his/her time to program evaluation activities or to monitoring such activities by contractors; part-time employees or employees working on evaluations less than fifty percent of their time are not to be included. A brief narrative description of program evaluation activities and of their expected impact is to be included (two or three paragraphs per Directorate). Significant increases or decreases in funding levels for evaluation activities from FY 1977 to FY 1978 are to be noted and major "policy or strategy changes" mentioned.

6. A two-three page Agency summary narrative will be prepared by this office and we welcome your suggestions. The data you provide should include activities of your components in support of interagency evaluation efforts (e.g., by the IC Staff) or of evaluation activities of other agencies. The Agency overview will note that CIA regularly participates in evaluations of Programs under the control of other Departments and Agencies.

7. Your data and narrative are needed by no later than COB 21 April. We apologize for the tight deadline, but the OMB tasking only arrived in the Comptroller's Office on 12 April, and the OMB deadline is Monday, 25 April. Rm 3E58), is coordinating this effort and he remains ready to talk further with you people regarding the nature and extent of the task.

BULLETIN NO. 77-8

April 4, 1977

TO THE HEADS OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND ESTABLISHMENTS

SUBJECT: Resources for Program Evaluation in Fiscal Year 1977

1. Purpose. This Bulletin provides instructions for the submission of information concerning the resources for program evaluation provided for in fiscal year 1977.

2. Background. The Office of Management and Budget has determined the need to collect and analyze information on the level of Federal expenditures and staffing devoted to program evaluation activities. The information requested by this Bulletin is vital to an understanding of the magnitude of evaluation resources and the ways in which these resources contribute to the achievement of national goals, agency missions, and program objectives. Moreover, increasing concern about the adequacy of data on program performance makes it necessary to assure that accurate information can be provided to the Congress and the public on the actual level of program evaluation expenditures.

3. Coverage. These instructions apply to each executive department and independent agency with more than 800 authorized full-time permanent employees.

4. Definition. For purposes of this Bulletin, program evaluation means the formal assessment, through objective measurements and systematic analyses, of the manner and extent to which Federal programs (or their components) have achieved or are achieving their objectives, or are producing other significant effects of either a desirable or undesirable character, in order to assist future policy and management decisions.

a. The following will be considered as Federal program evaluation activities for the purpose of this Bulletin:

... (1) Formal studies, surveys, and data analyses for the purpose of determining the effectiveness, efficiency, or impact of a national or regional program.

(2) Systematic assessment of demonstration programs or projects which are expected to have major implication for programs of national or regional scope; except that evaluation activities which are an intrinsic part of the program operations or management should not be reported.

(3) Formal studies, surveys, and data analyses for the purpose of assessing program management processes, procedures, intervention techniques, workload distribution, or productivity.

(4) Assessment and development of program designs to assure that programs, once operational, can be successfully evaluated.

(5) Design, development, and field testing of new program evaluation methodologies.

(6) Synthesis and further analysis of results obtained by several previous program evaluation efforts.

(7) Collection of initial data to help in evaluation design and provide a baseline for subsequent evaluations.

b. The following will not be considered as program evaluation activities for the purposes of this Bulletin.

(1) Design, development, and operation of general data systems or management information systems.

(2) Continuing collection of routine data and general purpose statistics.

(3) Analysis of existing or proposed policies where no programs yet exist (even though authorized) for purposes of appraising the likely costs and effects of feasible alternatives. Although such analyses are often called "evaluations," they are prospective in character; whereas program evaluation is retrospective, aimed at determining what has actually occurred as the result of past program actions.

(4) Basic research and studies intended to increase or foster general knowledge development, but which are not expected to be used specifically and primarily in policy and management decisions.

Approved For Release 2004/05/13 : CIA-RDP91M00696R000200060018-0

(5) Routine, day-to-day monitoring of program operations which is an intrinsic part of program administration.

c. It is recognized that the present extensive variation among Federal agencies and programs will require case-by-case judgments to determine the applicability of the above criteria to agency "evaluation" activities.

5. Reporting Requirements. Departments and agencies should submit a report in accordance with the attached instructions and exhibit to OMB, attention: Evaluation and Program Implementation Division by April 25, 1977. This is a one-time report.

6. Rescission. This Bulletin is rescinded following receipt of the April 25, 1977 report.

7. Inquiries. Inquiries and requests for assistance should be directed to the Evaluation and Program Implementation Division, Office of Management and Budget. (395-4726 or 395-5642.)
